

Reflection

204: Practice lesson

The practice lesson practical helped in developing skills and classroom confidence. Six lesson notes were prepared, including three science and three maths. The science topics included pollution, metal nonmetal and health and diseases, while in math topics are triangle, polynomial and mensuration.

This practical provided valuable experience in effective teaching and helped in developing professional competence as a future teacher.